Welcome to the NEW Newsletter!!!

By: Erick Del Toro

The Knights of Columbus Council 14041 is introducing a NEW NEWSLETTER!

Every month, we will publish a newsletter for our fellow Knights on upcoming events, reports on events that have taken over the past several months, and also articles written by YOU!

Brother Knights can submit articles or Catholic inspirational articles read that you might think it would bring inspiration to other fellow Knights. We will try to keep the newsletter informative, as well as inspirational and of course, spiritual.

The newsletter will be distributed every month, by the time of the new Business Meeting (last Thursday of the month). Deadlines for the articles and stories for the newsletter will be for the Sunday before the Business Meeting (Officers Meeting). You can email the publication to myself or any of the Council Officers. We will review the story/article and decide to publish into the newsletter in the next Officers Meeting.

I hope you enjoy this and keep the word of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ in any type of inspiration that you would love to share with others.

Update from Brother Dave Orsak

This has been an exciting week of orientation. I have met a great group of my fellow seminarians and find that we all have much in common. Even though we have different stories to tell, we find that these stories demonstrate the numerous ways that God calls us all to faith.

We finished our orientation sessions today and we were treated to a bus ride into Milwaukee and a boat ride out into Lake Michigan. We stopped at The Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist and spent a few minutes with Our Lord, Jesus Christ, present in the Eucharist. It is truly wonderful to see that our faith extends to the four corners of the earth and that we can spend some time with Our Lord wherever we go. (cont. on page 2)

On Monday I will begin a course in Interpersonal Communication Skills. This will be the first course in a long five years of formation that, I am told, will pass by quickly. I hope and pray that The Lord will form me into what he has always wanted me to be and that I am able to enjoy every minute of the journey.

Please pray for me as I will be praying for you.

Vivat Jesus!

Adoration September 3rd

By Peter Crowe

Brothers:

If you aren't doing anything on September 3rd, I hope you can give Jesus Christ, exposed on the Altar, 13% of your month by coming to spend an hour with Him (The Blessed Sacrament will be exposed from 5-10PM in the Church). Come to pray about all your intentions, and in particular, I encourage you to keep our brother, David Orsak, very much in your prayers during Adoration.

Anastasius of Sinai, bishop, writes:

"...Let us run with confidence and joy to enter into the cloud like Moses and Elijah or like James and John. Let us be caught up like Peter to behold the divine vision and be transfigured by that glorious transfiguration. Let us retire from the world, stand aloof from the earth, rise above the body, detach ourselves from creatures and turn to the creator, to whom Peter in ecstasy exclaimed: Lord, it is good for us to be here."

I can't think of a more accurate term for the intimate and powerful effect that spending an hour with Jesus can have on a soul.

First Friday Promises

By Peter Crowe

I wanted to pass the promises Jesus made to St. Margaret Mary Alacoque about those who honor Christ's Sacred heart on the first Friday of 9 consecutive months:

1. I will give them all the graces necessary for their state in life.
2. I will give peace in their families.
3. I will console them in all their troubles.
4. They shall find in My Heart an assured refuge during life and especially at the hour of death.

5. I will pour abundant blessings on all their undertakings.
6. Sinners shall find in My Heart the source and infinite ocean of mercy.
7. Tepid souls shall become fervent.
8. Fervent souls shall speedily rise to great perfection.
9. I will bless the homes in which the image of My Sacred Heart shall be exposed and honoured.
10. I will give to priests the power to touch the most hardened hearts.

11. Those who propagate this devotion shall have their name written in My Heart, and it shall never be effaced.
12. The all-powerful love of My Heart will grant to all those who shall receive Communion on the First Friday of nine consecutive months the grace of final repentance; they shall not die under My displeasure, nor without receiving their Sacraments; My Heart shall be their assured refuge at the last hour.

“I am happy to testify that many young people are discovering the beauty of adoration, whether personal or in community.”

On Eucharistic Adoration

VATICAN CITY, JUNE 10, 2007 (Zenit.org). - Here is a translation of the address Benedict XVI gave today to the crowds gathered in St. Peter's Square when he led the praying of the midday Angelus.

Dear Brothers and Sisters!

Today's solemnity of Corpus Domini, which in the Vatican and other nations was already celebrated this past Thursday, invites us to contemplate the great mystery of our faith: the most holy Eucharist, the real presence of the Lord Jesus Christ in the sacrament of the altar.

Every time that the priest renews the Eucharistic sacrifice, in the prayer of consecration he repeats: "This is my body & this is my blood." He does this giving his voice, his hands, and his heart to Christ, who wanted to remain with us as the beating heart of the Church. But even after the celebration of the divine mysteries, the Lord Jesus remains living in the tabernacle; because of this he is praised, especially by Eucharistic adoration, as I wished to recall in the recent postsynodal apostolic exhortation, "Sacramentum Caritatis" (cf. Nos. 66-69).

Indeed, there is an intrinsic connection between celebration and adoration. The holy Mass, in fact, is in itself the Church's greatest act of adoration: "No one eats this food," St. Augustine writes, "if he has not first worshiped it" (Commentary on Psalm 98:9; CCL XXXIX, 1385). Adoration outside holy Mass prolongs and intensifies what happened in the liturgical celebration and renders a true and profound reception of Christ possible.

Today, then, in all Christian communities, there is the Eucharistic procession, a singular form of public adoration of the Eucharist, enriched by beautiful and traditional manifestations of popular devotion. I would like to take the opportunity that today's solemnity offers me to strongly recommend to pastors and all the faithful the practice of Eucharistic adoration. I express my appreciation to the institutes of consecrated life, as also to the associations and confraternities that dedicate themselves to this practice in a special way. They offer to all a reminder of the centrality of Christ in our personal and ecclesial life.

I am happy to testify that many young people are discovering the beauty of adoration, whether personal or in community. I invite priests to encourage youth groups in this, but also to accompany them to ensure that the forms of adoration are appropriate and dignified, with sufficient times for silence and listening to the word of God. In life today, which is often noisy and scattered, it is more important than ever to recover the capacity for interior silence and recollection: Eucharistic adoration permits one to do this not only within one's "I" but rather in the company of that "You" full of love who is Jesus Christ, "the God who is near us."

May the Virgin Mary, Eucharistic Woman, lead us into the secret of true adoration. Her heart, humble and silent, was always recollected around the mystery of Jesus, in whom she worshiped the presence of God and his redemptive love. By her intercession may there grow faith in the Eucharistic mystery, the joy of participating at holy Mass, especially on Sunday, and the desire to bear witness to the immense charity of Christ.
